

SWEDISH MEDICAL CENTER (PACIFIC NORTHWEST FERTILITY)

8/4/08

<http://health.groups.yahoo.com/group/DonorSiblingRegistry/message/10954>

A member recently wrote to ask about Fairfax Cryobank and which other clinics they have bought up or sold sperm for. Here is the information that we've collected about who shares/sells/buys sperm:
-Swedish Hospital is also known as Seattle Fertility and Gynecology Clinic. Pacific Gynecology Specialists and other clinic postings from that area are all related to Swedish Hospital and some are posted under Swedish Hospital instead of the clinic or doctor name. Swedish Hospital is also known as Swedish Medical Center, and the place where the sperm was sold was called Reproductive Technologies Program thru Swedish Medical Center. In August of 2005, this place's website stated that Swedish Medical Center was being turned over to Pacific Northwest Fertility, and the sperm donor program was being phased out. (Dr. Lee Hickock and Dr. Shaun Williams departed Pacific Gynecology Specialists in 2005 and opened up Pacific Northwest Fertility Clinic or PNFC). Pacific Gynecology Specialists, Seattle is connected to Swedish Medical Center by a skywalk. Pacific Gynecology was originally partnered with Swedish Medical Center. Dr. Dr. Robert McIntosh started practicing with the group in 1976. Dr. William Coburn and Dr. Barry Stewart practiced there in the 70's too.

8/29/05

<http://health.groups.yahoo.com/group/DonorSiblingRegistry/message/5394>

Please be aware that the Sperm donor program is being phased out at the medical center. I always check each year around my son's birthday on the donor list and for any changes within the department. I just looked on the web site and it stated that it's being turned over to Pacific Northwest Fertility. And the sperm donor program was being phased out.